

ANALYST - FINANCIAL AND CORPORATE PR

THE COMPANY

Powerscourt, a Morrow Sodali Company, is an award-winning strategic communications consultancy with offices in London and Dublin.

We advise companies across a broad range of services, including financial and corporate communications, crisis and issues management, political affairs, sustainability and campaigning.

Some of the biggest companies in the world rely on our advice to safeguard their reputations. Who are some of these largely known companies? AutoTrader, Airbus, Gousto, Zurich Insurance and more.

Powerscourt has a very collaborative and sociable culture, we host a summer BBQ, pub quiz, Christmas party and supper nights!

We see our clients' success as our success, and we are looking for people just as ambitious as us to join the Powerscourt family.

THE ROLE

Our London office is going from strength to strength in terms of client portfolio and revenue generation. As a result, we are currently looking for a dynamic, bright and intelligent graduate to join our graduate programme.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Monitoring the news and media landscape on a daily basis
- Supporting sector teams in managing the day-to-day running of client accounts
- Liaising with journalists and City analysts
- Managing client events including the announcement of financial results
- Drafting press releases and media summaries
- Collaborative team player

THE PERSON

- A keen interest in current affairs, business and the media
- An articulate and confident communicator (verbal and written) with great attention to detail
- A desire to work with listed clients and to understand capital markets
- Strong academics with a minimum 2:1 degree classification

THE PACKAGE

- Salary: Competitive
- Benefits: Generous benefits and holiday entitlement as well as access to excellent training and career development courses